DESCRIPTION

THE FIRST CLASS NATURAL STONE MING GREEN MARBLE TILES

Ming Green is a gorgeous marble characterized by its pale-green natural color background with translucent hints of mint, sea green, and emerald crystalline marking. Quarried in Asia, this marble is a popular choice to be incorporated into contemporary and traditional design

Authentic Natural Stone: Marble is a hard crystalline metamorphic rock. It is denser than marble, as a result of having been exposed to heat and pressure. Prized for its timeless elegance and natural beauty, marble is available in a wide variety of colours from white and beige marble to black and green and textures. Most variations of marble take polished very well. We specialise in marble sourced from Asia, however, we also offer an extensive assortment of marble options sourced from all over the world.

2 REVIEWS FOR MING GREEN MARBLE TILES

It has been over a month since we ordered. As there were no updates from you, we reached out. Upon speaking with you in person we were told that the tile had been difficult to source, but that it was finally 'in'. Unfortunately, it came 'in' as glossy, not honed, so you were shipping it out to someone to have it 'honed'. You get points for trying to solve the problem (we don't know how this product looks/will look as we are still weeks away from having it), but zero points for communication. We were told you are short staffed. Ok, but this is/has been a known issue internally for a while. Not impressed at all. We will need to update this review once we actually get our product.
